It's official! Summer is in full swing. While you're fete-ing the night away, looking effortlessly flawless will be your modus operandi. Hitting the 'scene' you'll want to keep it simple and fresh. Enhance what you've got going for you and remember to smile – confidence is an aphrodisiac! If you're feeling like you just gotta shine (literally), keep shimmer products classy and sexy, never goofy or gawdy.

Actress and style star Sophia Bush looks every bit the starlet with a sheer veil of sparkle. Take your cues from Sophia and keep application light. Mix your shimmer products with body lotion or foundation, instead of applying directly. A little bit goes a long way.

1. TWINKLE TWINKLE LITTLE STAR

Tarte Celebutante Dry Oil Shimmer Spray smells amazing and absorbs quickly into your skin, never feeling greasy or sticky. Works for all skin types and stays on even as you shake, shimmy, and party the night away.

2. A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME...

Would not create the same flawless finish as La Prairie's Rose Illusion Line Filler. This primer/corrector has all the elements you'd expect from a top flight brand such as La Prairie. It smells divine, looks pretty in the jar, and it works. Helps to fill in minor lines and even out pores so that your foundation glides on flawlessly.

3. PER-FEKTION

Per-fekt's Eye Perfection Gel is a summer must-have. It contains cucumber extract, which relieves puffiness. And the light-reflecting gel-mousse formula has just enough tint to make tired eyes look refreshed. Used alone or with shadow, this amazing product is also free of oil, talc, wax, fragrance, and parabens.

4. HIGH TEA

Iced tea is probably the most refreshing thing you can think of on a hot summer day. And so it goes that DuWop's IcedTeas are refreshment for your lips. With a subtle cooling effect, a blush of color, and sunscreen to protect your pout, these hydrating lipsticks are a summer 09 must-have.

LOVE IS IN THE HAIR

Nobody gets through summer without wondering where their gorgeous, glossy mane of May went to unless they've taken special care. Summer heat, exposure to the sun, salt and chlorine all take a toll on even the most posh locks. Enter the Stephen Knoll Hair Care System. Known for the chicest styles on celebrities and socialites around the globe, Stephen has created a line of hair care products that uses Re-Cuticle technology. This revolutionary system seals moisture and nutrients into every strand of your hair, and creates a bio-membrane to repair damaged and broken strands. What better way to treat your summer hair with care? Available at www.stephenknoll.com or the Stephen Knoll Salon, located at 625 Madison Avenue.

FAKE IT 'TIL YOU MAKE IT

Summer sun and the annual dilemma: to tan, or not to tan. Personally, I choose not to tan. I want my skin to feel like something softer than shoe leather when I am in the autumn and winter of my life. Plus, with the new crop of self-tanners and bronzers, application is much easier. At the very least, if you're going to be outside baking, use an SPF and then if you don't get as dark as you'd like, combine a little self-tanner action with the real thing. The results are superb and your dermatologist will be proud of you. Choose from luxurious products like Guerlain's Sunless Self Tanning Spray (which smells lovely, by the way), Origins "The Great Pretender" shimmery self-tanner (the perfect amount of shimmer and the perfect amount of tan), or Edward Bess's Ultra Luminous Bronzer (Desert Sun is the perfect shade for bringing out the bronzed goddess within).

LIGHT UP SUMMER NIGHTS WITH A SMILE

Before you apply your lippgloss or spritz on your Chanel No. 5, if you want to really feel beautiful – just smile. A bright, healthy, white smile is not only sexy, but as Dr. Gerry Curatola tells us, it can be the key to good health. Dr. Curatola is the pioneer and founder of Rejuvenation Dentistry, and his core belief is that an enhanced smile is a gateway to total health, wellness and longevity. Pairing the best dental technology available with organic therapies, Rejuvenation Dentistry is an integrated system of care and private practice with offices in New York, East Hampton, London, Paris and Rome.
